YONCOPIN

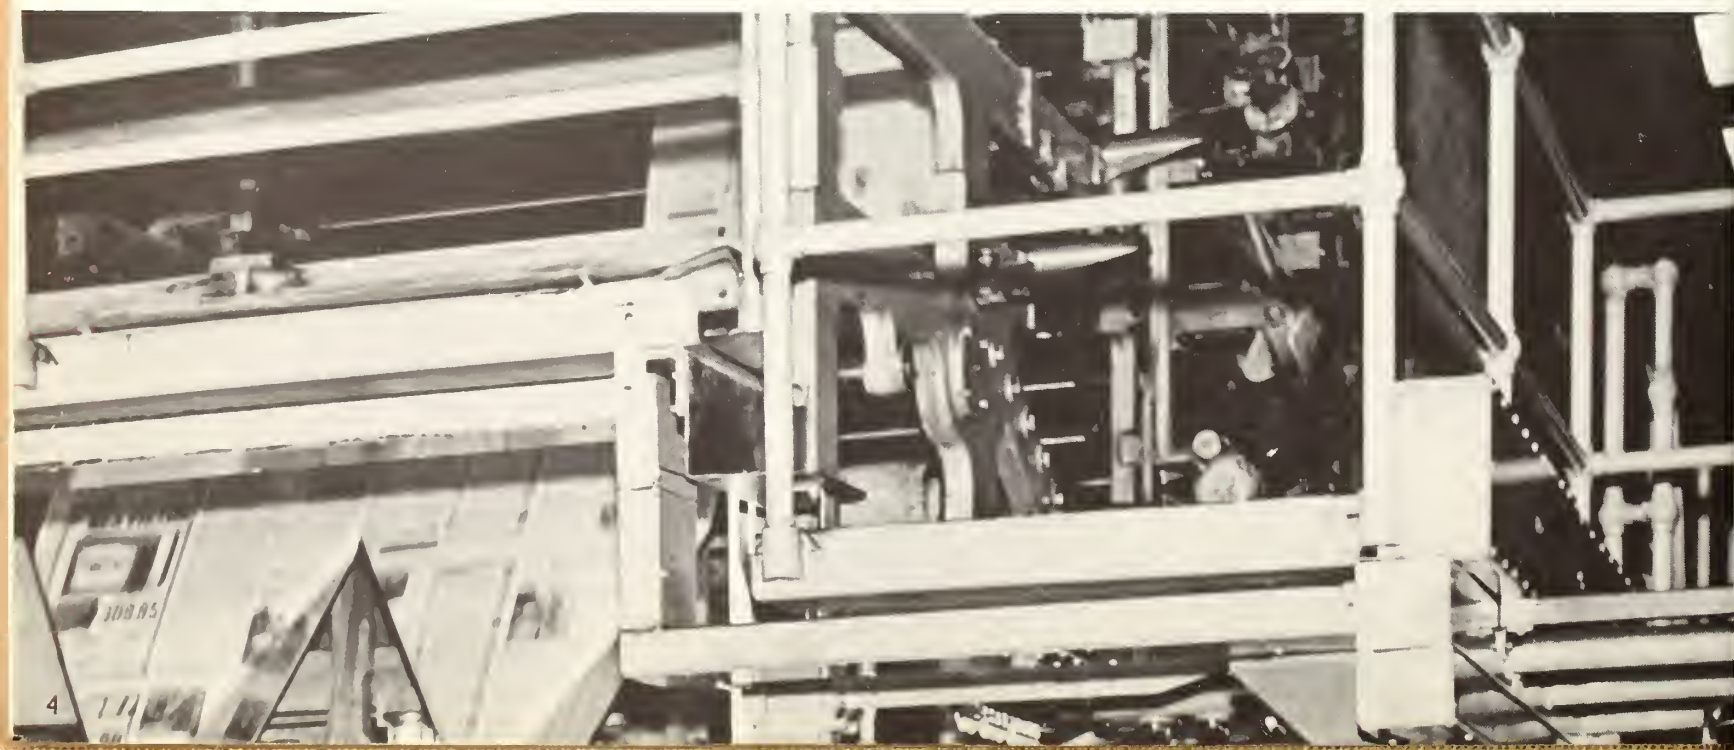

an open door
leading down
an empty hall
to a vacant room

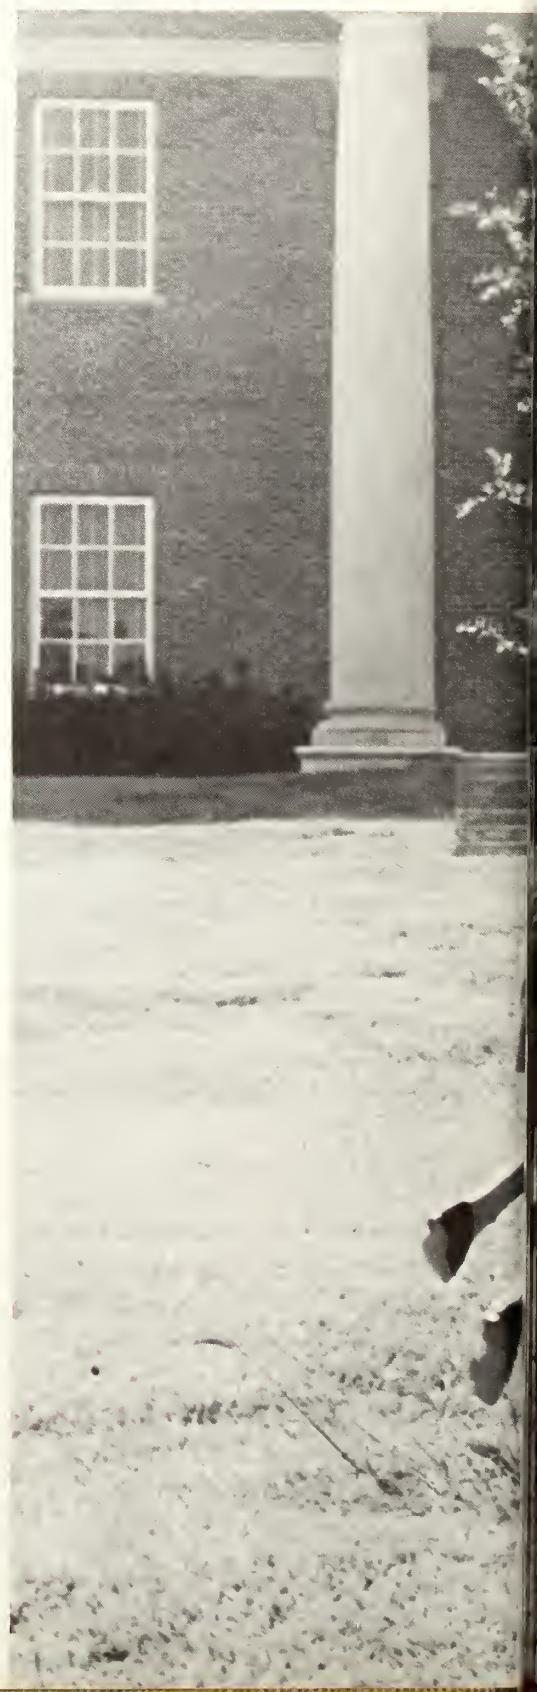

a first good-bye
with a farewell smile
starts another year.
a new beginning — a new life!

the gloom of the world is
but a shadow,
behind it, yet within reach, is
joy.
for the world has many
things . . .
the world has many
people . . .
the world has many
colors . . .
and each of them is different.

a smile on a face
a question in a heart
an expression of interest, of caring, of solitude . . .
as a leaf blowing in the wind feeling warmth and peace within . . .

the old

the new

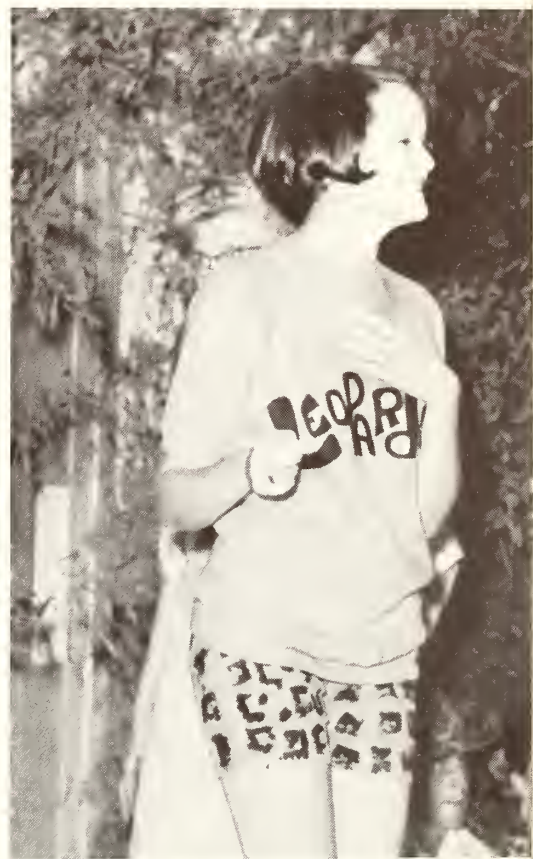

the memories

the security in a crowd
the joy of laughter
the love in a smile
the warmth of a hand . . .
each a key note in the song of life.

the sound of silence
is louder than the
roar of the crowd
and echoes as waves
at their ebb.

you've got to build a better man before you can build a better society —
for where there is an open mind,
there will also be a frontier.

A vintage color photograph of a young couple sitting on a rocky ledge outdoors. The woman, on the left, is wearing a light-colored, possibly yellow or cream, dress and is looking towards the camera. The man, on the right, is wearing a red sweater over a collared shirt and dark trousers, and is looking down at his hands. They are surrounded by lush green foliage and a brick wall in the background. The ground is covered with grass and scattered rocks.

issues to be discussed

a-l-l boys h-a-v-e to live on-campus and a freshman girls dorm is under consideration. an all campus clean-up was started in order to get extended library hours. one of the first articles to be removed was a bulletin board behind the sub followed by broken rocks—everywhere.

opinions to

conclusions to be seen

required subjects are a necessary h-a-z-a-r-d. freedom of speech and of off-campus rights of students as citizens are our greatest privileges, yet, "wildcat" newspaper is degraded for self-expression and no drinking will be allowed.

be heard

the hurley music building was the place; october 21 was the date; strom thurmond was the man. a fairly large group of centenary students and faculty gathered to hear the well-known republican senator from south carolina. "the challenge to freedom" praised the south; warned against totalitarianism; blasted federal aid; advocated constitutional amendment.

last year, in order to give credit to those select few, "who do but don't get praised," "who do" was organized. a continuation of these doers is being carried out under a different title this year—pacesetters. this select group has exerted unmerited energy towards the betterment of student life and campus relations. as a sign of gratitude, we dedicate these two pages to you—just a little thing!

school spirit and enthusiasm returned to the student body of centenary as a result of the hard work of these fine girls.

club football

club football enjoyed its second season with greater success. its schedule was increased to three games and the team presented centenary with its first football victory in over 25 years (a 15-13 conquest of springhill). the most notable success of the team was, however, in helping to develop the embryo of school spirit at centenary. students and faculty realized the effort of the players and supported them appropriately.

plans are in progress for increasing the schedule to seven or eight games next fall. with this expanded schedule, more students and faculty may participate in the program. we must always remember that this is a football program of students and for students—

under the direction of new freshman coach riley wallace the future gents had a very prosperous season. although the gentlets were small on manpower and height, their hustle and desire to win more than made up for the handicaps. at one time during the year the team consisted of only six players and the average height on the team was 6 ft. 1 in.

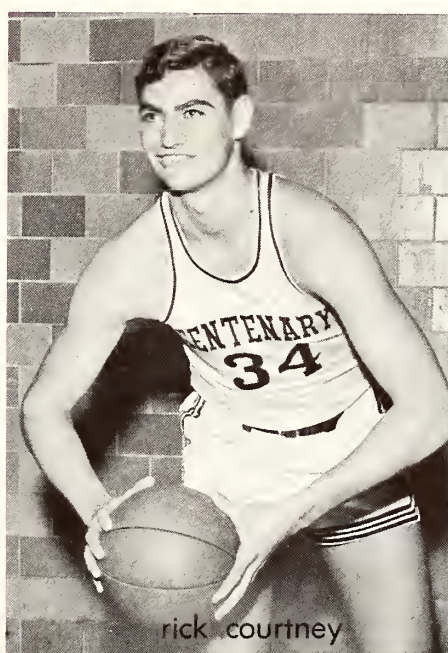

darrell mc gibany, a senior at centenary, served as riley's assistant and also did some scouting for the varsity.

men's intramurals

as the leaves of september lightly fell to the ground, likewise did the 'gentle' men of centenary—only much harder. it was time again for the intramural highlight of football. hidden somewhere in the rivalries between fraternities and independents, the desire to win and kill the other fellas, was the primary objective of having fun. yes, there was fun even though the pride of each fraternity or independent organization was thought to depend on each play.

there were some innovations which improved play greatly. plastic flags and belts replaced the cloth rags of the past. although there were still some injuries their number and severity greatly decreased with the added emphasis on rules and sportsmanship.

there were close races in both the national and american leagues. kappa alpha defeated killer's boys for first place while kappa sigma bested tau kappa epsilon for third. the exciting competition of football set the pace for an eventful intramural program.

with the return of elmo cox, buddy lockett, larry stevens, terry stevens, and bob monstadt the gent golf team experienced one of their best years. mike martin and don cooke, both freshmen, added the reserve strength and both showed superior playing ability during the season.

centenary was also fortunate to have two girls from texas to represent the women in golf. because of the work of jeanie butler and betty ferguson the first annual women's intercollegiate golf tournament was held at centenary on march 29-30.

returning lettermen include gary sutton, a senior from long beach, california, bob strayer, a junior from erie, pennsylvania, and jimmy davis, a junior flash from hughes springs, texas. ronnie liles and eric watson, both freshmen, rounded out this year's squad and added the strength needed for a fine season.

women's gymnastics

a lot of hard work, will-power, and scads of determination are the ingredients that go into making a team that is ranked second in the nation. coach vannie edwards is the key individual in the success story of centenary college women's gymnastic team; he has served as the coach of the 1964 olympic team in tokyo, japan, and will be manager of the team for the 1968 summer olympics held in mexico city. coach edwards relinquishes most of his own time for the betterment of his team by devoting approximately ten hours daily to workouts with these young ladies.

centenary's team travels over much of the united states doing clinics and exhibitions. this year the team travelled to florida, tennessee, ohio, illinois, texas, pennsylvania, and louisiana. while most of centenary's student body was home feasting on turkey during the thanksgiving holidays, mr. and mrs. edwards, nine gymnasts, and ron diiulio toured various cities in canada, including quebec, toronto, and montreal. during the month of april, the team travelled to long beach, california, to compete with the number one team in the nation, southern illinois university.

this year centenary had the honor of experiencing another first in the history of the college. during its fourth annual international gymnastic clinic, centenary held its first dual meet with kent state, ohio in shreveport. the centenary girls defeated their opponents by a score of 105 to 91, with outstanding performances by susan mc donnell and debbie bailey. during the latter part of march, southern illinois and centenary competed at haynes gymnasium.

individual members have accumulated the following national medals: twelve gold, three silver, and three bronze. one international gold medal was won at the pan-american games. because of the olympics this summer, a number of olympic training meets were held in the united states and mexico. participating in these trials were debbie bailey, karen lively, emily stevens (a high school student from ft. myers, florida) and mary camille trawweek as a judge representing the united states. susan mc donnell and diane masse will represent canada during the north american championships. other members of the team are judy johnson, ranking fifth in national trampoline championships; mickey adams, touring india this summer along with her former teammates; and jo connolly, pamm horack, beverly mackes, and nancy tarpey, competing as members of the freshman squad. mary camille trawweek is a judge travelling with the team. she has attended several of the olympic training meets in hopes of gaining additional knowledge in the field of women's gymnastics. nancy ruth kotsch, a united states judge from pennsylvania also travels with the team, highlighting her career by judging at the pan-american team trials in minnesota. marnie bankson, formerly a member of the competing team, is now participating as a judge also.

centenary's fine group of young ladies on the gymnastic team spreads the college's name nationally and internationally, and is truly shreveport's "best ad."

synonymous with dedication to centenary college is the organization of maroon jackets. these girls are chosen on the basis of character and leadership, and serve as the official college hostesses. among their duties are assisting during registration, chapel and lyceum programs, and freshman week. membership requires a 3.0 average and two semesters in residency at centenary.

the maroon jackets honor one outstanding co-ed each year with the ray williams award and an honorary jacket. this year's recipient was suda adams.

sso is an honor organization composed of sophomore students, who, during their freshman year, demonstrated high achievement and made significant contributions to the extra-curricular life of the college. the organization's main task was to be freshman at orientation, but throughout this year they have varied themselves from collecting money for the united fund drive to substituting for the maroon jackets at the convocations.

wsga is composed of all regularly enrolled women students. its purpose is to establish communication between town and dormitory students, and act as a unifying body for all centenary women. it is composed of one woman from each dorm three town students, and four officers elected by the student body. it is the council's duty to make all rules regarding women on campus and to supervise dorm regulations.

this year the council succeeded in getting one o'clock permission for the dorm women on saturday night and late hours for library study on the week nights. it is advised by mrs. shirley rawlinson, dean of women.

ry college choir

a triumph . . . and a rebuilding . . .

the dilemma of delay was left behind by the twenty-eight members of the centenary college choir who boarded a jet the morning of august 12. after many weeks of waiting, the singers performed on the great stage to a combined audience of one hundred seventy-five thousand people and broke all attendance records in the fabled theatre.

forty-eight hours after their return from new york, the singers were faced with the task of incorporating sixteen new members into the existing group. ten days and sixty rehearsal hours at the annual choir camp at hodes gardens accomplished the job. on their return to the campus the "new faces" found themselves firmly entrenched in the workings of the organization.

ellen buford and becky brown model the latest addition to the $10,000 wardrobe.

the choir's time on campus was used to prepare for the many concerts and personal appearances scheduled for the year ahead. in addition to the regular activities, the singers had the pleasant chore of choosing new red dresses for the girls and new summer tuxes for the boys. the gift of mrs. ruth patterson of houma, louisiana. also, "songs by summer starlight," a new recording of popular songs was released. the annual "faculty feed" and several concerts to civic organizations in shreveport were the prelude for more expansive activities later in the year.

the seventeenth edition of "rhapsody in view" staged in the civic theatre and sponsored by the downtown shreveport lions club saw many reflections of the previous summer's radio city music hall performances. the new york sets were reconstructed for the november 1 and 2 performances by phil anderson, speech instructor at centenary, and gary corn, his student assistant. the excitement of the debut concerts was further heightened by a visit from mr. will irwin, musical director of the music hall, and mr. russell markert, director of the renowned "rockettes" and producer of the stage show in which the choir appeared. the two-night show played to packed houses and was heartily approved by the audiences.

the 1967-68 centenary college choir officers. seated are scott boatright, treasurer; cheryl love, secretary; paul cooke, president; ellen buford, coed vice-president; and sid montegudo, vice-president. standing are jim montgomery, bass section leader; anita jewell, soprano section leader; david blodgett and gayle boucher, accompanists; chris prince, tenor section leader; and nancy rogers, alto section leader.

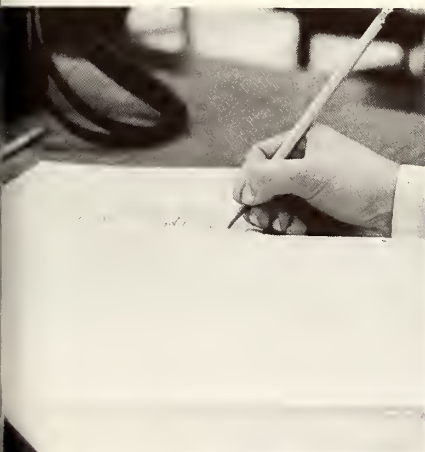

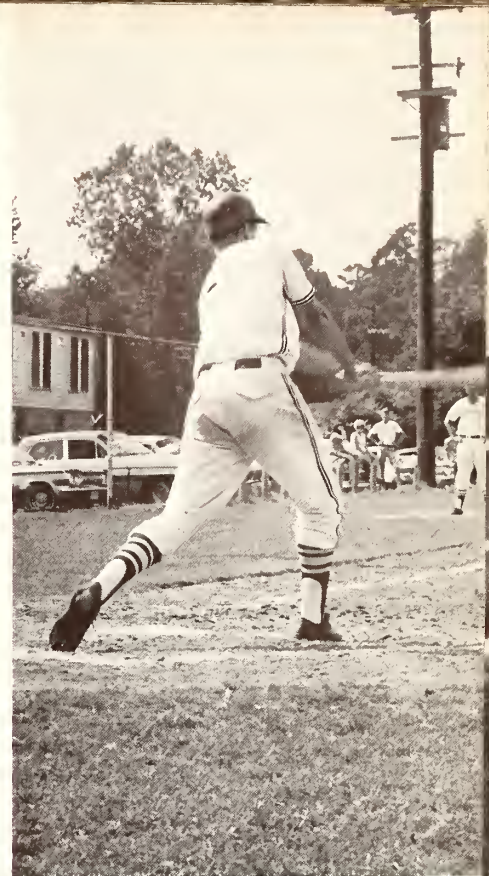

sid montegudo and ellen buford ... most valuable singers, 1967-68.

... an organization
goes as its leadership goes.

how do you begin to say thank you for the timeless energy exerted by so many for one purpose, for one idea, for one person. it took much to make this book—little things—like you and me. little things like the expected and the unexpected; the agreements and the disagreements; the innumerable questions and the sought for answers; the organization and the disorganization; the decisions and the indecisions; and most of all the cooperation. yes, cooperation on the part of all: my staff, for those long hours, endless decisions and assured dependability; mr. wayne and mr. elsing sr., my advisors; miss "a," for my second home; to you the students who compose this book; to my family, my god, and especially to "my friend."

i give you your past for '68. there were big things that happened this year, yet it's the little things that will forever remain indellible in our hearts . . . think about it!
